

Metasploit Object Model a11y.text Metasploit Object Model Understanding the Metasploit Object Model a11y.text Understanding the Metasploit Object Model MSF architecture In the Metasploit Framework, all modules are Ruby classes. Modules inherit from the type-specific class The type-specific class inherits from the Msf::Module class There is a shared common API between modules Payloads are slightly different. Payloads are created at runtime from various components Glue together stagers with stages Next Mixins and Plugins Prev Modules and Locations